TANHOLDINGS
SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

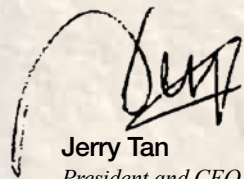

To the Class of 2020, there may be no traditional graduation ceremonies for you, but that does not mean your achievements as a student are of less importance. All the more we need to celebrate your graduation because you made it through two super typhoons, this ongoing pandemic, and a lot more challenges that I could not count.

You put in the time, commitment, and hard work to graduate this school year. You persevered through these trying times, attending classes in makeshift classrooms and online. The positive mindset you showed to continue your education in the face of difficult situations says something about your drive to reach your goals.

Of course, all these were made possible by the unwavering support of your family, especially your parents, whose faith in you and in what you are capable of doing remains strong. You also have your dedicated teachers and school personnel and officials to thank for. They have their own challenges to confront, too, but they stayed true to what the CNMI education system stands for, which is "Students First."

What you accomplished through those tough years and the help you received from the people around you are the reasons you are celebrating one of the momentous occasions in your lives. Be proud and grateful. Your achievements are no ordinary feats in these no ordinary times.

Congratulations, graduates. You've done a great job and time to move on to the next one. Expect more bumps as you navigate your way toward reaching another goal, but don't be discouraged. Keep believing in yourselves, don't stop dreaming and working on your aspirations. Success comes to those who never give up.

Non-traditional graduations are the 'new normal'

By KIMBERLY A. BAUTISTA
kimberly_bautista@saipantribune.com
REPORTER

No crowded venues. No photo-ops on stage. No presentation of awards to the Top 10 honors. This is the reality of the "new normal" in the CNMI and one of the many cherished traditions that have fallen by the wayside in the time of the COVID-19 pandemic are graduation ceremonies.

Each school in the CNMI was given the chance to use their creativity to prepare an unorthodox graduation ceremony for their graduates and promotees to honor their accomplishments while still complying with the strict social distancing measures in place. Many of these schools got ideas from other schools worldwide that have also been hit by the COVID-19 pandemic but wanted to provide some sort of recognition for their graduating classes.

The most common "new normal" graduation was either virtual, motorcade, or drive-thru. Most schools combined all three to make the day as special as possible for their students because, according to the Public School System, it was the least they could do since these students' lives were turned upside down and they did not have the opportunity to end their high school careers like most seniors.

However, a number of schools like Mount Carmel School, Agape Christian School, and Saipan International School still gave their graduates a feel of the traditional graduation with a few tweaks to abide with social distancing measures.

MCS, which held their graduation last June 20, hosted a traditional commencement ceremony for their graduates but limited the event to invitation-only. Each graduate was given four tickets for invited guests to limit the number of people within the Mount Carmel Cathedral.

However, for those friends and families who were not invited, MCS also recorded the commencement ceremony and streamed it live via the internet so others could participate from home.

ACS also did a somewhat traditional ceremony with some major tweaks. The graduates were still able to do the graduation march. They were also called one by one to receive their diplomas. And they were also together, as a class, to turn their tassels. However, parents, friends, and family members were not invited to the ceremony, just student and select teachers and staff. The ceremony was live-streamed over the internet and each student was given the opportunity to stand in front of the camera for their parents to see them as they turned their tassels.

SIS held their commencement ceremony traditionally, but in two batches in order to abide with social distancing laws. In addition, the ceremonies were held outside for added safety. Following that, both batches went on a motorcade around the island as one group.

GCA hosted the first drive-thru graduation and motorcade. GCA had each student park their vehicles around the school's campus and had them wait in their cars until their names were called. They then had to walk to a table placed at the center of the stage to pick up their diploma and awards and walk back to their vehicle. All speeches and remarks from their teachers, staff, and class valedictorian and salutatorian were pre-recorded and sent to each student. GCA's ceremony ended with a motorcade.

Eucon International School also held a drive-thru graduation like everyone else. Eucon, which usually holds a long traditional graduation within the walls of their auditorium, instead opted to host a quick drive-thru at their school parking lot where teachers handed out diplomas and awards followed by a short picture taking.

Eucon held three graduations this year: one for their elementary students, then their middle school and high school students back in June, and a drive-thru graduation in May for their college graduates.

All public schools had the same set up for this year's graduations: awards, speeches, and addresses were compiled virtually and given to the students while diplomas were given out drive-thru style.

Marianas High School hosted two separate events. The first one was a virtual ceremony to recognize awardees and their accomplishments. This event was held physically on campus with only a handful of students and their family members present. The second was held the following day with a motorcade. The motorcade concluded in a drive-thru diploma distribution.

Da'Ok Academy held a motorcade that ended with a drive-thru diploma distribution at the Fiesta Resort & Spa Saipan. Speeches from their teachers, staff, and the PSS administration were pre-recorded and given to the students.

Saipan Southern High School held a motorcade starting from the Susupe Civic Center to their campus where they received their diplomas drive-thru style. Along with their diplomas, students also received their awards, a flash drive that had all the pre-recorded speeches from teachers, staff and PSS administration, a class video, and a video of the awardees.

Kagman High School held an extensive motorcade that went completely around the island. The actual ceremony, which included speeches and acknowledgement of awardees, was uploaded to Facebook.

Dr. Rita Hocog Inos Jr./Sr. High School and the Tinian Jr./Sr. High School held similar commencement ceremonies. They both held a motorcade for their students that drove up to their respective campuses where their awards and diplomas were handed to them.

The Northern Marianas College postponed its graduation ceremony until December 2020; however, the college still opted to pay tribute to over 200 graduates and their achievement in various online and traditional platforms and a virtual commemoration.

It awarded associate degrees in Business, Liberal Arts, Business Administration (Account, Business Management or Computer Applications Emphasis), Criminal Justice, Hospitality Management, Natural Resource Management, and Nursing. The bachelor degrees awarded were in Business Management (or business management with accounting concentration), and in Education (with emphasis in Early Childhood Education, Elementary Education, Rehabilitation and Human Services, or Special Education). (With Justine Nauta)
